

Frank Brandram's "joint", Studley, Kansas

This photograph is of Frank Brandram's "joint," one of the first houses in Studley. Frank is mixing a highball out front. There is a team of horses on the right of the photo. This appears to be a sod structure, glass windows, and wood above windows to peak of roof. This structure may be in construction; several long boards are propped up against the side of the structure.
