

J.S. Vincent to Governor John St. John

J.S. Vincent writes Kansas Governor St. John questioning why the drug store licensing act was published, unless it has become a law of the State. Vincent suspects it involves the "work of the whiskey men." He urges the Governor to come speak on the matter in Columbus, Kansas.

VINCENT HOUSE

J. S. VINCENT, Proprietor.

Columbus, Kans. April 14 1879

To, His Excellency

Hon J. P. St John.

Dear Governor,

The Temperance people of our City in common I suppose with the Temperance people of the State are anxious to know why the act licensing drug stores was published if it is not a law of the State. Some of us ~~are~~ believe that the act was passed, and that the explanation given by the State printer is the mark of the whiskey men. We know that while you are Governor, they could not perpetrate a fraud of that kind. therefore we call your attention to the matter knowing that you can set the matter right. Can you not visit our City and address us on the Temperance question before long. We would be glad to see you.

Very Truly Yours
