Kansas Woman's Press Association correspondence

Section 4, Pages 91 - 120

This item is correspondence related to the Kansas Woman's Press Association. The postcards are, primarily, a listing of the names of female newspaper editors, typesetters, reporters, publishers, and contributors from Kansas counties. The other correspondence deals with the work of the organization. Miss Zu Adams, who assisted her father as secretary of the Kansas Historical Society, acted as secretary for the Kansas Woman's Press Association in Topeka, Kansas.

Miss F. Adams,

There are 220 women engaged in newspaper work in this county that I know of, except Mrs.
N. S. Morgan, who keeps her husband edit and "set up" the Peabody Gazette.

Very truly E. W. Stoeck

I do not think there is one woman now engaged in the newspaper work in Marshall County. There are several who have been compositors but are not now in the work. Among them are
Mrs. Lu Hartman - Maryville Ks
" May Scott Atchelle
" Maggie Danica Rudeville
Miss Mabel Burroughs - Maryville
" Maud " "
Miss Edith Hatton, Blue Rapids
Mrs. N. S. Garrison - Maryville Ks
Mrs. W. D. Jones " "

It is possible that there may be some women compositors on the "Bee" at Emporia, The Times at Blue Rapids or other leading towns. You had better write them.
Respectfully yours,
Maryville Ks 11/6/92
Fannie Smith

Miss J.W. Adams:-
In reply to yours of the 20th ult., will say that Miss Florence Hale, is publisher of the Liberty Review, at Liberty, Kansas, and there are several lady type-setters at Cherryvale, and at Coffeyville, but only one in this city, a Miss Cook, but she has no regular work. Respectfully, J. T. B. C. Bogane.

Mrs. Jas. D. Jones and wife
Miss Anna R. Shaffer ^{Editor}
These are all I know. There are some others in Leavenworth but they are compilers whom I do not know.
Miss Gresham is a compo-itor I think. There is a Miss Mercer of Indiana who wrote on the 2d. specimen last summer - employed on the Spectator.
Our county has not many women in newspaper work considerably now.

Miss Adams:

In reply we will say that there are no ladies connected with newspapers in Phillips County. Although there are several lady typos. Your respy

Miss Jim Adams,
Topeka, Kans. July 5, 1892

My dear Miss! — Miss Laura Shaw is a type-setter in this office. Mrs. C. A. Miller, wife of B. editor of "Munroe's Agricultural Journal," her husband in his work. Those are the only women connected with the newspaper business in this county to knowledge.

Very Resps.
