Section 718, Pages 21511 - 21540

This series of the Rolla Clymer collection includes sent and received correspondence arranged chronologically beginning in 1909. With few exceptions, the correspondence provides a continuous and very complete view of his activities. Much of the earliest correspondence in the Clymer collection pertains to information about the College of Emporia for the period Clymer was a student there. Scattered throughout the remainder of the correspondence is information about Emporia athletics and alumni activities and letters with former classmates. From 1914 to 1918, Clymer was editor and manager of the Olathe, Kansas, Register. In 1918, Rolla Clymer moved his young family to El Dorado, Kansas, where he became editor and manager of the El Dorado Republican. Except for a six month hiatus in 1937 as editor and manager of the Santa Fe New Mexican in Santa Fe, New Mexico, Clymer served the remainder of his professional career in El Dorado.

In his later years, Clymer devoted much of his time to efforts to preserve the Kansas Flint Hills region which he dearly loved. In addition to newspaper editorials, he wrote and published numerous widely circulated articles and poems about the Flint Hills. Perhaps his best known tribute was his poem "Majesty of the Hills," which helped earn him the designation as Poet Laureate of the Flint Hills. Rolla Clymer died on June 4, 1977, having been the editor of the El Dorado Times for fifty-nine years. For a complete contents list of the Rolla Clymer collection, see the External Links below.

Mr. Herman Roe, Publicity Division, Republican National Committee, Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Roe:I am pleased that you thought my editorial,
"Jap Valets for Farmers," worthy of inclusion in part in the January 10 issue of your clip sheet, "On the Home Front."
I also greatly appreciate your friendly letter of January 7 which accompanied a copy of this clip sheet to my desk.

I am glad to know that you are giving of your time to the work of the Republican National Committee, though I am sure this must represent a real sacrifice for you. I wish to congratulate you, however, upon the excellence of the clip sheet you are editing. I never fail to find something of value in it which I can pass along to my Kansas readers.

I was in your home town of Northfield a couple of years ago for an hour or two and caught up a bit with my knowledge of the James-Younger gang. I wish now that I had dropped in to see you.

Again thanking you and with best wishes for continuing success to your efforts, I am

Very truly yours,

Dear Rollo:

Your story on the "picnic" which is planned for the First District was most interesting to me. I appreciate the friendly pat which you offered to my exposed back, and I believe you may have analyzed the situation pretty well. Of course, I may not agree with all of your ideas.

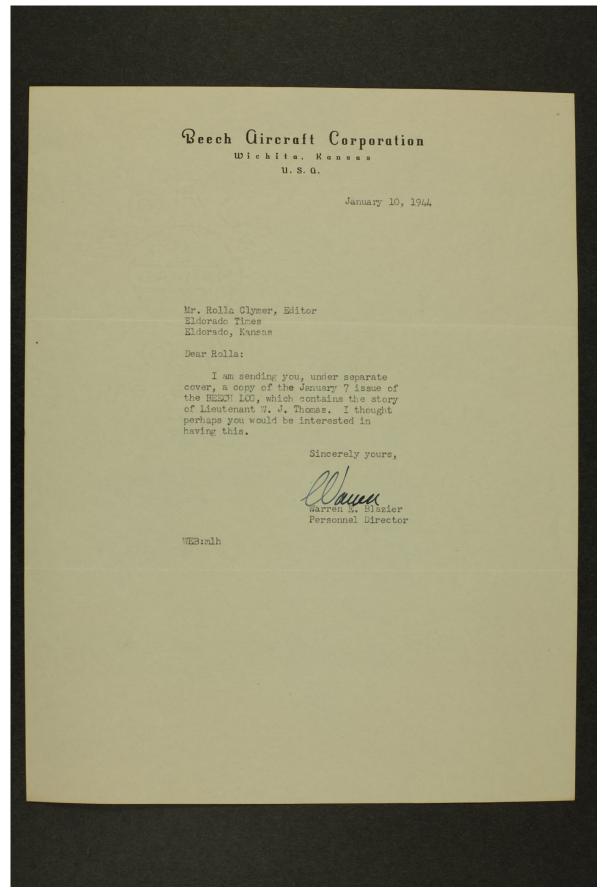

However, I note what you say about Bill's comfortable sailing. The little landing barge which I am maneuvering is encountering a number of other vessels of various kinds and descriptions.
If I am successful having the pond cleared of all but two ships, I believe there is a possibility that the situation might become interesting. In event this occurs, any favorable comments you may care to make will be gratefully accepted by this embryo sailor.

Cordially yours,

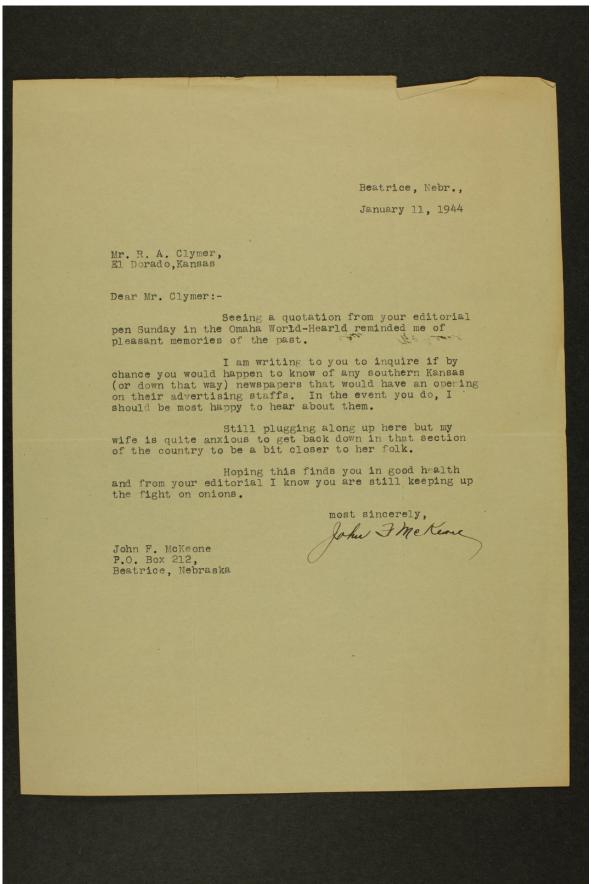

Albert M. Cole

PROGRESS REPORT

TO ALL MEMBERS
KANSAS INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT COMMISSION:

The showing of the film, "Fertile Frontiers," last week was highly successful to say the least. There were about sixty present for the luncheon showing of this film and about thirty present for the two o'clock showing. A great many fine compliments were given us on this film and no criticisms were heard from anyone.

We are mailing today letters to five hundred of the largest industries of Kansas, asking them for names of companies, together with the name of the key man of each company, outside of the state who might be a prospect for us to call on and interest in establishing an industry in Kansas.

We have written all the college presidents in Kansas for names of outstanding alumni residing outside of Kansas to whom we might write for names of prospects.

Dusty Rhoads is spending most of his time securing names of prospects between Richmond, Va., and Boston.

We have set up a card file system for all such prospects and these cards will be kept posted at all times thereby enabling us to have an up-to-date progress report on all such names.

Our community post-war program is now in work. Bob Campbell will start the week of January 17 on his part of the state. Fager and Bouck will start on their respective territories the week of January 24. This work will involve our representatives meeting with post-war planning committees in each trade area of the state by prearrangement and at each meeting we shall try to bring in other key individuals from towns within that given trade area.

We shall try to complete this program, less necessary call-backs, by the time the Industrial Brochure is off the press. Sixteen pages of the art work have been approved and are at the printers. The remaining art work will be in our office this week for approval and delivery to the printers.

Very truly yours,

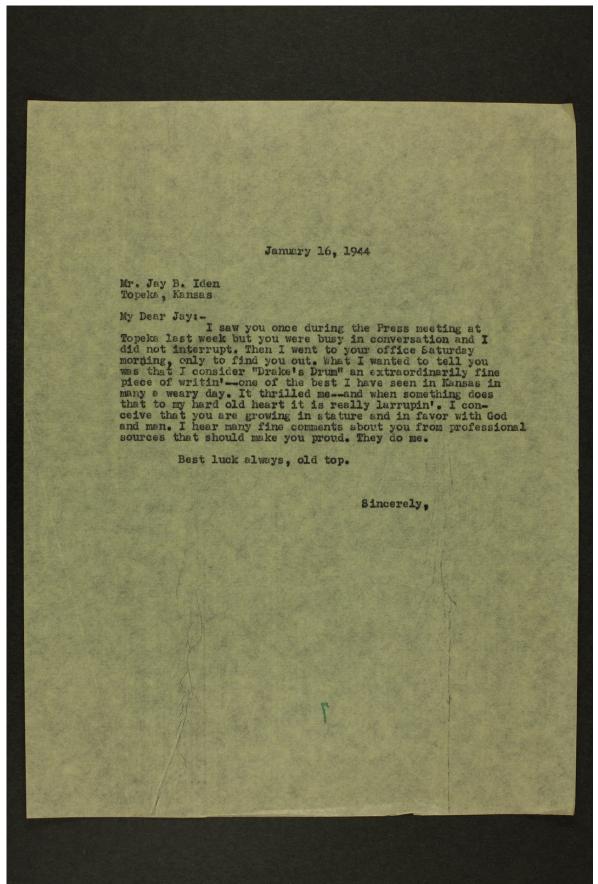

KANSAS INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT COMMISSION

Mr. Rolla Clymer Eldorado Times Eldorado, Kansas

Dear Mr. Clymer:

Received your letter of January 11th with the enclosure and was much surprized, though I must admit agreeably so, to find that you had quoted from my letter in your column.

I was well pleased with the editorial page, aside from the fact that it carried an excerpt from my own letter, especially the article by Mr. Alford under the caption "Rule of the 'Czers' ". On the whole I gather that you of the middle west are somewhat fed up on the New Deal, the difference being that you are not averse to putting the blame on Mr. F. D. R., where it belongs.

For several years past the radio commentators and newspaper columnists in the East have, for the most part, pointed out the shortcomings of the New Deal but have not had the temerity to correctly place the responsibility. Even Senator Byrd of Virginia, when investigating the number of Government employees, simply stated that Mr. R. Was misinformed when his report was scathingly denounced by the White House.

The answer in the case of radio commentators is, of course, that no consistent critic of the New Deal has held his job over a long period of time on the air. It is somewhat different with newspaper columnists though they too, with a few notable exceptions — namely Westbrook Pegler and Frank R. Kent—seem to have been quietly subdued. Even the vitriolic pen of H. L. Mencken appears to have been effectively silenced.

Until the November elections of '42, while I agreed for the most part with Administration critics, I was inclined to think that they were just "crying in the wilderness" since, in 1940, Mr. R. received 27 million votes, and by an odd coincidence that was also the number of beneficiaries of some form of New Deal largesse at that time. However, I now believe the general public has seen the "handwriting on the wall" and that this year we will see the rascals thrown out.

I am glad to have had the opportunity to express some of my views to a sympathetic ear. I know, however, that you are a very busy man so please do not feel that you must take your valuable time to reply to this.

Chas. Randolph Guthui

Most truly yours,

P. S. I suggest "Roosevelt and Ruin" as a catch phrase for the 4th term campaign.
