

Samuel Clarke Pomeroy to Thaddeus Hyatt

This letter was written to Thaddeus Hyatt, president of the National Kansas Committee, by S. C. Pomeroy regarding their relief efforts during the drought of 1860. Pomeroy mentioned in this letter a convention that was called to meet in Lawrence on November 14, 1860. He pasted the advertisement for this convention to the first page of the letter, it had been published in the (Leavenworth?) Daily Times on October 31, 1860.

perhaps attend to it -

I want your advice whether I had better attend this Relief Convention on the 14th or let them go ahead -

I think by going there I can turn the thing into the right channel. This Synoda Movement, is coming to us - after all - and does every thing through here -

I have sent for Map's & profile of our Road to Topeka - Soon as the Engineer finishes them they will be sent to you

The cases of suffering meet me daily - There are a hundred now where there was one - when you were here - God only know what January & February will bring forth. I stick to my office day & night. Write & answer every letter. And attend in person to every applicant for aid. x

I send you some letters & slips - my wife cut them for you -

I copy all letter & reports of this character into my Book -

Hope soon to hear from you at Boston - I am truly - and

Always S. C. Pomeroy
