JOHN ANDERSON MINTER

John Anderson Minter was born August 6, 1866 in Adams County, Pennsylvania, and peacefully departed this life December 27, 1943 in Abilene, Kansas.

He was converted at the age of sixteen years and lived a consistent Christian life until the end. He was a member and a true friend of the temperance cause and was never happier than when rendering his services in any way to promote the cause of temperance. Being a traveller in our own and in foreign countries he had opportunity to see the results of intemperance. He was able to give much of interest concerning the work and results of temperance work. During the state Convention in Abilene 1939, he was responsible for the transportation of the delegates while guests in the city. While we miss his smile and cheerful helpfulness, we know our loss is Heaven's gain. II Tim. 4:- 7 & 8.

He leaves to mourn his departure from this earthly life his devoted wife Emma and the following children and their companions: Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Bert, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Minter, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Minter, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Noel and Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Minter who show their love and devotion to the cause of temperance by honoring his name in this beautiful "Book of Memory."

Her book of life is closed
And tho' just a simple story
Someway I think the Master
Will reward it rich with glory.
For the things her life was made of,
Are the things that never die---
They are things that are enternal
Things that money cannot buy.

PHILLIP FRANCIS MOCK

Phillip Francis Mock was born July 24, 1859 at Dandridge, Tennessee and in young manhood moved with his parents to Kansas. This pioneer family settled near the Saline river in Ellis county where Mr. Mock spent the remainder of his life.

He was married to Ladora Kate King April 19, 1883. To this union nine children were born.

Shortly after his marriage Mr. Mock was baptized and united with the Baptist church continuing his affiliation with that denomination until his decease. An attractive, country church was erected on Mr. Mock's farm and he gave generously of time and money to make it prosper. As church official, Sunday School Superintendent and Sunday School teacher his efforts helped maintain the gospel light in the community in which he lived.

Mr. Mock was an ardent advocate of temperance. His life-long abstinence from both tobacco and alcohol testify to his conviction that they were moral evils and therefore should be shunned by christians.

He passed away January 17, 1938 aged 78 years, 5 months and 24 days at Turkville, Kansas. Memorialized by his loving wife,

Mrs. L. K. Mock.

BELLE PFAFF MONTGOMERY

Belle Pfaff was born in Johnson County, Iowa, in 1869. Her parents were Jacob and Lucy Cloud Pfaff and she was one of ten daughters in the Pfaff family, five of whom have preceded her in death.

In company with her parents she moved to Osceola County at the age of three years and here they lived on a farm homestead and saw hard times thro the "grasshopper" years. She grew to womanhood there and prepared herself for teaching by attending college at Mt. Vernon, Iowa. In 1891 the family moved to Lincoln county, Kansas, and again she taught school while helping to keep house for her father and young half-sisters.

She was married to Edward Montgomery at Lincoln, Kansas, on October 16, 1895. To this union two daughters were born, Lonelva Hepperly and Eunice Beryl Hill, both of whom now live in Salina.

The Montgomery family moved to Salina in 1915 so that the girls could attend college at Kansas Wesleyan University.

Mrs. Montgomery was a member of the Methodist Church from early life and she and her family united with the University Methodist Church in Salina and here they helped erect the present church building. She was one present in 1917 when the ceremony of "burning the papers" clearing all indebtedness on this church building performed. She always took an active part in all of the church work. She was a charter member of the church Circle number One and also a charter member of the Wesleyan unit of the W.C.T.U.

Mr. Montgomery, her husband, passed away in February of 1943 and that loss of companionship and grief at his passing weakened her physical condition. She spent her last few weeks in Asbury Hospital where she answered the call of death early Sunday morning, September 3, 1944.

She leaves to mourn her passing her two daughters, three grandchildren and one great grandchild and four sisters, many nieces and nephews and other relatives who will miss her from her accustomed place and made lonely by her departure.

She leaves a record of loving service and of true friendship so that many rise and "call her blessed". Now she has gone to be at home with her heavenly Father. She has gone to be united with one with whom she lived so faithfully here on earth. They are together again in gladdest reunion.

Great joy and sorrow came to her family in those weeks, in the birth of the first great grandchild, Mary Christine Archer in the same hospital on August 9th, 1944. Then the return of the son-in-law, First Lieut. Vance D. Archer, Jr. from his overseas missions the morning of her funeral-reminding us God always compensates joy with sorrow.

PHEBE LOUISA MOON MOORE.

Phebe Louisa Moore was born in Kokomo, Howard County, Indiana, on October 9, 1871, and departed this life on the afternoon of July 25, 1947, in Wichita, Sedgwick County, Kansas, at the age of 75 years, 9 months, and 16 days.

She was a daughter of Benjamin F. Moon and Rebecca Bogue Moon of Kokomo, Indiana. Her father was a lawyer. Both of her parents died while she was a child. She was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bowen, in whose family she grew to womanhood in Osborne, Kansas. As a girl she was a member of the Congregational Church at Osborne, Kansas.

Mrs. Moore was a school teacher for about five years prior to her marriage. She was hired to teach in Osborne schools the year she graduated from Osborne High School. She taught the first school opened in Edmond, Oklahoma, after the opening of Oklahoma territory. She later returned to Kansas to teach in the Alton schools.

She was married on April 2, 1894, to William N. Moore at Osborne, Kansas. Her husband was a practicing attorney at law, first in Alton, and then in Phillipsburg, for more than 50 years. He preceded her in death October 8, 1941.

To this union four children were borne: Walker N. Moore, now an insurance special agent at Wichita, Kansas; Mrs. Donald Foster, formerly Jean Moore, now of Belleville, Illinois; Beth Moore Whitney, now of Wichita; and Dr. William McKinley Moore, now associate professor of journalism in the University of Kentucky, Lexington, Kentucky.

Residing in Phillipsburg, Kansas, from 1898 until 1940 with her husband and family, she joined the Phillipsburg First Christian Church, and for more than 20 years she taught the young peoples' Sunday School class there.

She leaves to mourn her death, besides her daughters and sons, one son-in-law, Don Foster of Belleville, Illinois; one daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ora Moore of Lexington, Kentucky; one grandson, Duane Moore, and his wife, Ruthelma Moore; one granddaughter, Mrs. Darlene Miller; two great grandchildren, Ronald Wayne Moore and Cindy Lu Miller of Wichita; her only sister, Mrs. G. C. Forster of Edmond, Oklahoma; and a host of relatives and friends. One brother, two adopted sisters and one adopted brother preceded her in death.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Ray O. Burgess, pastor of the Wichita West Side Christian Church, from Downing Chapel, on Monday, July 28, 1947. Burial was in Memorial Garden Cemetery, Wichita.

Keen of mind, and possessed of extraordinary literary interests and writing skill, Mrs. Moore spent many busy hours of the past decade writing the story of her life--a manuscript of book length, which her children very much cherish. She was a great student of the Bible, finding comfort in the Word.

A loyal Kansan, she believed firmly in the Kansas way of life, and advocated the motto: "Ad Astra per Aspera"-- to the stars through difficulties--to her growing children. A maxim she particularly liked was: "Anything worth doing is worth doing well."

Mrs. Moore was a loyal friend, a tireless worker, a wonderful mother. Though much of her life was centered about the welfare of her husband and children she could always be enlisted to aid in any good cause. Her sense of justice and of fairness was omnipresent. Day or night, in sickness or in health, she gave unselfish service to others in need.

The causes she espoused dealt with making the world a better place for all children, and with giving every child an opportunity to grow into a useful, upright citizen.

Mrs. Moore's advocacy of governmental protection from the evils of alcoholism is shown in her letter to the editor printed in the Topeka Daily Capital of Tuesday, September 4, 1934, under the caption, "Kansas Should Retain Prohibition:"

"Fifty-four years ago Kansas adopted constitutional prohibition. Only after a heroic struggle on the part of the temperance men and women of that period was this accomplished. They have never faltered in their loyalty to the great principle for which they contended so long and courageously. Thereby, they gained an enviable reputation. Their record has been an inspiration to the world. Kansans of today owe it to those valiant patriots to keep the standard and pass it on unblemished to those who soon will inherit the responsibilities of citizenship.

"For years prior to the advent of national prohibition, people came to Kansas to rear their families away from the menace of legalized liquor. Many an enslaved victim of drink, escaping temptation, became a valued citizen. Since national repeal, the same is true. Kansas should justify their trust....

"Finally, under prohibition Kansas has enjoyed heaven's choicest blessings. It would seem that simple gratitude would induce every loyal citizen to vote to retain constitutional prohibition.

--Mrs. W. N. Moore, Phillipsburg,
August 29, 1934"

In espousing virtue and good conduct, Mrs. Moore was standing side by side with her husband, the two of them united in ideals and living.

In the past few years, Mrs. Moore often said, "I am thankful not to be bedfast, as so many people of my age are," and she was active in body and mind up to the time when she fell in final coma.

One of her strong beliefs was that a person should make himself useful; in April, 1947, she said to her children "What I do does not hurt me, and I should be very unhappy if I couldn't make myself useful some of the time. Feeling oneself a necessary cog in the wheel is something, you know."

She was particularly fond of two poems expressive of the regard in which she was held by her family. One verse by Robert Louis Stevenson was selected by her husband and given her as fitting his regard:

TO MY WIFE

Trusty, dusky, vivid, true
With eyes of gold and bramble dew
Steel true and blade straight
The great Artificer made my mate.

Honor, anger, valor, fire
A love that life could never tire
Death quench, or evil stir
The mighty Master gave to her.

Teacher, tender comrade, wife
A fellow farer, true through life
Heart whole and soul free,
The august Father gave to me.

Another verse she loved accompanied a gift from her children:

MOTHER

God took the sunshine from the skies
And made the lovelight in your eyes.
From honeyed flowers He took the dew
And made your tears, unselfish, true.
Upon a rock your faith He built
With Angel prayers your breath He filled
And with His love made yours divine
But best of all He made you mine.

The reverence which Mrs. Moore felt for her fellow members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union--to which she belonged for 40 years--is revealed in her own words for a devotional service she composed several years ago, and conducted many times during the dozen years she was president of the Phillips County W. C. T. U. In this religious service she would say:

"Since last we met in convention, some have been called to their heavenly reward, and we wish to pay tribute to their memory and turn our thoughts to promises.

"The Scripture, IThessalonians, 4:14 and 18, teaches that we should not grieve:

"For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with Him....Wherefore, comfort one another with these words:"

She would next have the convention sing the song, "Asleep in Jesus," and then before the reading of names--with flower and testimony--Mrs. Moore would give her own special little prayer:

"Unto Thee, O God, we give thanks that these dear departed sisters were spared to live among us for this long. We thank Thee for the good they have done, for the influence of their Godly lives. Dear Lord, wilt Thou--we pray--raise up others to take their place in the ranks. Help us to remain true and faithful, so that we shall all meet in heaven, when earthly tasks are finished. In Jesus name we ask it. Amen."

He later attended Kansas Wesleyan Business College at Salina, Kansas and graduated from the Williams School of Embalming at Kansas City practicing his profession for thirty-five years.

He and his estimable wife spent nine very happy years with their three children in Ransom, Kansas both working in the the Methodist Church, teaching classes in Sunday School, interested in Epworth League. "At Church suppers you would find mother in the kitchen or dining room and father helping with the entertainment, not as a talented performer but as an enthusiastic booster", said the daughter Marjorie, who now lives in Salina. To school games, community enterprises, the Nesmiths always took a car-load of young folks. Mrs. Nesmith was also interested in 4-H work, teaching classes in sewing for the County Agent.

Mr. Nesmith was an active Odd Fellow and had held the city offices of Mayor and Fire Marshall. He seemed to have no enemies, making opportunities to be helpful to those in sorrow, giving advise and material comfort to those who had lost their loved ones. His motto of life was: Do what good you can to every one you can, even tho it may not be returned to you--they will pass it along.

Mr. Nesmith passed away June 23, 1943, one year and one month following the death of his companion which left him so lonely even tho his children were kind and helpful to him. The last service was held in the University Methodist Church and burial was made at Memorial Park Cemetery at Salina, Kansas.
