You can see how our part of North Main looked all covered with water, and pouring into base-ments then reaching up into the first floors of the houses in many instances. You notice Mr. Masons Grocery with his name on the outside. All below that is toward 12th & our own street. It covered Main down to 12th and was quite (deep) but turned East and South East near 12th and followed what they call "the old slough." You know our Church is just four blocks north of 13th and water covered all over there. Almost reached in to the Auditorium just one step below it. Water is still in the church furnace room. Has to be pumped out frequently, comes in again water was over the grocery but is gradually getting less.
