

Twelve piano recital at Russell, Kansas

Here is a photograph, newspaper articles, and a program for a twelve piano recital held at Russell High School in Russell, Kansas. The group was taught by Mrs. Lowell Hogue who started with eight girls playing four pianos and the group grew to 24 playing twelve pianos. The recital was broadcast over KAYS, a radio station in Hays, Kansas. Mary Lou Houdyshell Anderson is third from the left in the front row.

MUSIC RECITAL THIS WEEK
An outstanding music event of Western Kansas will be the annual 12-piano recital that will be given Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 8:15 p. m. in the auditorium of Russell high school by the students of Mrs. Lowell Hogue who started out several years ago with eight little girls playing four pianos. Now the group has grown to 24 and this year the recital will have transcriptions made which will be rebroadcast over a Hays radio sta-

At last year's recital the auditorium was packed both nights with spectators coming from as far away as Denver and inquiries have been received about this year's performances.

The program this year will be on the modern trend using pieces like "Tiger Rag," "Canadian Capers," "Rag Doll," "Japanese Sandman" and "Night and Day" as well as a few classics such as "Prelude in C Sharp Minor" by Rachmanioff and "Polanaise" by Chopin. Others on the program will include song and tap numbers by Virginia Liggett and vocal numbers by Miss Ann Hogue.

Piano Concert To Be Broadcast

Tonight's concert by piano students of Mrs. Lowell Hogue will be broadcast over radio station KAYS at 5 p.m. Sunday.

The program, which will feature a 12-piano number, will be given at 8:15 p. m. today and tomorrow in the Russell High Auditorium.
