Section 2, Pages 31 - 60

This is a scrapbook of the 25th anniversary of the Woman's Kansas Day Club. It was collected and arranged by Mrs. F.W. Boyd, Phillipsburg, President 1931 and Mrs. Dan Hopson, Phillipsburg, Corporation Secretary 1931. The scrapbook contains biographies, clippings, and photographs of the presidents of the Club during these years. The silver anniversary program is also included.

Pawnee Village, Republic County, Kansas,
September 26, 27, 28, and 29, 1906.

Lieutenant Pike, at Pawnee Village, Republic county, Kansas, September 29, 1806: "After a silence of some time an old man arose, went to the door, took down the Spanish flag, brought it, and laid it at my feet; he then received the American flag, and elevated it on the staff which had lately borne the standard of his Catholic majesty. This gave great satisfaction to the Osage and Kans, both of whom decidedly avowed themselves to be under American protection."

NORDICA HAD A WORD FOR EVERYONE

Received Topeka Friends
With Mrs. Hoch.

It Was a Most Informal Charming Event.

"I HAVE TO PRACTICE"

"It's Really the Truth",
Said Nordica When

Her Remark Brought a Smile From Her Guests.

Madam Lillian Nordica's public reception at the Governor's house yesterday afternoon would lead one to think that the Topeka women are not content to gaze at her across the foot lights while she is entertaining them with her splendid voice, but that they must get a near view of her, receive her cordial hand shake and respond to her warming and infectious smile. This they had the opportunity of doing yesterday and they came out in great crowds, too, and they watched the gorgeous Madam from the time they espied her carriage coming up Eighth street at 3:20 o'clock until she was carried out of their sight again and they had the very last glimpse of her, for they ran to the porch and windows for this very purpose.

The reception hours were from three to four o'clock, but Madam Nordica did not appear until 3:20. When she entered the south door of the reception hall every body pushed forward and commenced to figure on a good place for entering the line. Before Governor Hoch had reached her side to lead her to the front drawing room, where she was to receive, Madam Nordica had taken in, as it were, the crowd of fashionably dressed women, and she exclaimed, "O, how many beautiful women and how well they do look."

The singer really seemed to enjoy herself and despite the previous and usual instructions of her manager, that she was not to talk, she had a happy word to say to almost every one who passed through the line. The Madam made a great impression on the women, in fact the greater part of them expressed to everyone else that they were perfectly crazy about her. One young matron even went so far as to exclaim that she was really grand enough to eat and another, who had been studying her evening, her hat principally, said, "She is a perfect bird of paradise."

The hand shake was not sufficient for the singer, she insisted on hearing all names. When Mrs. Hoch presented a visiting woman to her and spoke of her being from Oklahoma, the Madam fairly rejoiced and gave the visitor a heartier hand shake than usual and detained the line long enough to say in the most natural manner possible, "I am perfectly crazy about Oklahoma, perfectly crazy about that land, and I go there tomorrow, you know. That was enough to make everyone else green with envy but there were a good many others had their turn. She detained another woman in a few minutes, this time to take in her fingers a bit of the hand made lace collar, which this lucky woman was wearing and tell her how exceedingly pretty she thought it. To another guest, who confided in her that she had heard her sing six times, she replied, "You must be a singer yourself."

When one of the members of the Ladies' Music club presented her a young vocal student and told her she was studying voice, she beamed on the girl and said, "Good, good, isn't it fine, do you sing?" And this is the way it went on and to another woman who vouchsafed that she had met her three times before, she was kind enough to say, "Yes I remember you". No one escaped some little attention from her. She smiled the whole half hour and bowed in a very charming manner and at intervals spoke of the pretty gowns of the guests. The young girls received as much attention as the grown ups and there was only one person who turned from her winning smile and that was a small boy, who didn't enjoy the situation and very rapidly jerked away when she smiled down on him and touched him under the chin. Strange to say the Frenchy attire of the Madam received rather tardy comment, but the women had not completely recovered from her smile until they were hurried along into the back drawing room. Nordica made a stunning appearance, her hat and beautiful jewels being the most notable accessories. That Nordica is most obliging and responsive can not be denied for when a group of women were discussing her exquisite necklace and endeavoring to tell just what gems were in it at a word from Mr. Simmons, the accompanist, she turned clear around and let them have a full view of it and smilingly said, "O, its very simple, do you like it?"

The necklace contained a collection of pearls the size of a pea, pink, black, yellow and cream and between the settings were tiny diamonds. From the pendant hung four large cream ones. She also wore a diamond brooch, a tiny jeweled watch on her girdle and two enormous turquoise just beneath the left shoulder. Her gown was passed over rather quickly for it showed signs of a little wear and then, too, it was of material that is worn in Topeka. It was a simple toilet, of pale blue pompadour silk with roses of a deeper shade in it. The yoke and insertions in the skirt were of a beautiful cream lace and it was further adorned with large bow knots of cloth of gold. The sleeves were elbow length. She wore a white plaited chiffon boa about her neck with long black velvet strings to it. Her hat, though, was from France. It was a red affair, the most striking part about it being a large parrot of brilliant red perched on the left side. It was a little round toque and had a touch of purple on it and around the sides was twined some thin green foliage over the red.

Off the stage Nordica looks much taller. She wears her gowns well at all times, and makes a splendid appearance. She carried a small bunch of violets and some American beauties yesterday as well as her carriage parol of bright red with bony handle. Though she kept insisting that it was an honor to her and that she should be the one to thank the Topeka women for the lovely afternoon, every one present felt that Madam Nordica was honoring them in a most delightfully, gracious and cordial manner. Quite frequently she spoke of the kindness of the Topeka women in coming out to greet her.

Nordica is accompanied by her niece, Miss Baldwin, from Boston, who stood at her side during the reception. Nordica was eager in her introductions to her niece and in a great many places turned and presented to her the women with whom she had just shaken hands. In not many cases when the guests hurriedly murmured of the honor in meeting her, did she fail to tell them of the honor she felt.

Though the crowd was large every one had an opportunity of speaking to the prima donna and Mr. Simmons did not have to remind her of the time and the necessity of leaving until every one had spoken to her. When he did call her attention she expressed her regret and looked toward the other rooms and smiled. Those who were more fortunate in being near her joined in the regret at her leaving. When she told them with a smile that she had to go in order to practice there was a general laugh and she appreciated it, too, for she quickly answered, "It's really the truth, I have to practice, isn't it so, Mr. Simmons?" turning to him to receive his second.

Her hand shake at parting did not lack any of its cordiality and to Mrs. Hoch she was profuse in her thanks for the afternoon's pleasure and the honor that she felt it to be and asked if she was to attend the concert in the evening. Before entering the reception hall, where she had left her long wrap, she shook hands and bowed adieu to many of the ladies. Governor Hoch escorted her to her carriage.

Mr. Simmons and Miss Baldwin came in for a good share of attention. The former made himself very agreeable to every one who came his way. Miss Baldwin is a charming girl, exceptionally pretty, and seemed to enjoy thoroughly the afternoon entertainment.

A committee from the Ladies' Music club appointed to make arrangements for the affair consisted of Mrs. Alf Klingenberg, Mrs. Frank P. MacLennan, Mrs. J. G. Going, Mrs. George W. Parkhurst, and Miss Celeste Nellis. Mrs. MacLennan stood at the head of the receiving line, Mrs. Hoch, the prima donna, her niece, Mr. Simmons, Mrs. Parkhurst and Miss Nellis in order. All of the Topeka women were fashionably gowned. The rooms were trimmed with an abundance of green, tulips and other spring flowers.

My Dear Sudy:-

I don't hear from you any more and seldom see you, but think of you many, many times. Hope you are all getting along fine and that the children all keep well.

I am sending you a picture of Mrs. E. W. Hoch, of Marion, a past-president of the Woman's Kansas Day club. There is a page for her picture in the Past-president Album of the W.K.D.C., on file at the Historical Society. I do not know whether you are the one to send this too or not, but if it isn't you will know who to give it to. I would like to have her picture put in the book and any clippings that there is room for. Have been thinking I would be in Topeka some day and personally attend to this, but don't know when I will be.

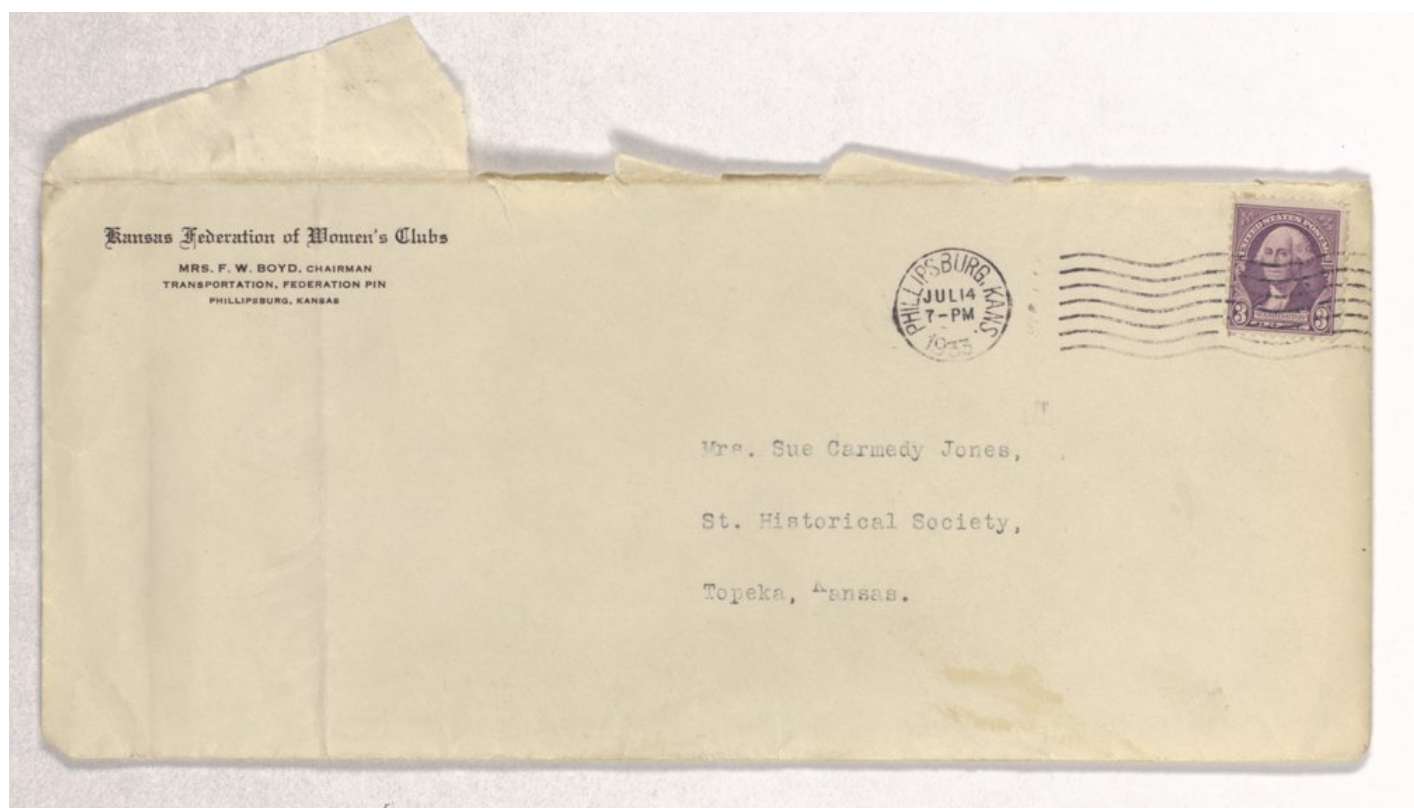

The clippings I am enclosing were sent by M. S. Hoch and I do not know whether they belong in the book or if there is somewhere else you care to file them.

Always with the very best for you and yours, I am,

Lovingly,

Mrs. F. W. Boyd

Dear Mrs. Boyd-

I have been so busy running a newspaper since your letter came that it has seemed impossible to get a moment to write you. We got out a big Christmas special Dec. 4th and since then business has crowded.

Mr. Lewis is not at all well, and I am sad about that all the time, as well as carrying the business.

I do not believe it will be possible for me to come down for the Kansas day Celebration, much as I would like to see many dear friends.

The material you want is this-

Answers to a few questions asked by Mrs. F.W. Boyd, President of the Woman's Kansas Day Club.

1. My maiden name was Lucy Browne.
2. I was born on a farm in the near vicinity of Camden, Ohio.
3. I first came to Kansas to visit a brother, July 1873, remained to help organize and to accept a place as teacher in the first graded school of Minneapolis, Kansas. Returned to Camden, Ohio, at the close of school, 1874. I was married to William Agnew Johnston, November 25th, 1875.
4. Member of the Board of Education of Minneapolis, Kansas, 1887-1890. Appointed Chairman of Library Extension Work for the Federation by Mrs. Willis Lord Moore, 1896. Elected President of Kansas Federation of Women's Clubs, 1901-1903. Elected member of the board of directors of the General Federation, 1906-1910. Elected president Woman's Kansas Day Club 1914. Elected President of Kansas Equal Suffrage Association, 1911-1913. The women of Kansas were granted full suffrage during this period. Elected State Regent D.A.R. 1899-1901. Elected member of the Board of Directors of the State Historical Society 1917 and have served continually since that date. Elected chairman, later honorary chairman of the Woman's Committee of the Kansas Division of the National Council of Defense, 1918-1919. Appointed chairman of First Division of the Kansas Division of the Woman's Loan Committee. Elected President of Ottawa County Equal Suffrage Association 1894. Continually in suffrage work until 1912, when the votes of men enfranchised us. Elected chairman legislative committee of the State Suffrage Association 1911.
5. As to "Other committees and appointments", they have been many which included the Red Cross and War work. I have served as a delegate to National conventions for each of the State Organizations to which I belonged. My appointment as chairman of Library Extension Work was continued through the administrations of Mrs. McClintock, Mrs. Peters and Mrs. Humphrey, and when the Legislature of 1899 convened, The Traveling Library was a thrifty youngster with over 3000 books in circulation. So, near the end of that session our Traveling Library Bill was passed, and that date marks the first legislative work of the State Federation of Clubs, and also my first work as a lobbyist. Was appointed chairman of legislation the year that the Federation took up the work of establishing an Industrial Farm Home for delinquent women. Appointed member Traveling Commission, July 1899 and have served continually since that time.

D. A. ENTINE,
HOWARD M. MCCUE, REPORTER

Dear Mrs. Boyd:

In preparing my part in filling an album with data concerning the Annual meeting of the Woman's Kansas Day Club, January 29th 1915, is the enclosed.

I gathered what I could find in the State Historical Society and supplemented from memory. All could not be remembered and it might interest others to know why that particular program was arranged. Up to that time, the regular form with papers had been followed. Excellent for all who could hear but at each of these eleven meetings I had noted the presence of our dear friend Mrs. Charles H. Beatty of Chanute, who being very hard of hearing, got only the social part of the programs with a clasp of a friend's hand, and so I planned the program of 1915 with Mrs. Beatty in mind, and had her informed beforehand as to the subjects of the pageant.

It was a bad winter and when Kansas Day came around I was just recovering from a cold, and at that meeting I discovered I could not hear the talker's voice from the back seats, and my ear trouble has grown steadily worse until now Mrs. Beatty and I are in the same class and I know that bad colds of 1915 would be called "Flu" now. I do not know what your program is to be but I do appreciate your effort to preserve for history these fragments of the past generations.

Sincerely yours,

Lucy B. Johnston

YESTERDAY.

Presiding, Mrs. John J. Ingalls: Pioneer women had been invited to come from all parts of the State and many came. Forming in the church parlor and keeping step with the music, they finally filed into the place reserved for them on the platform where Mrs. Ingalls presented each by name as they were escorted to the front. It may not be out of place to add here that within a week I was called by the daughter of one of these dear old ladies, who said "Mother died yesterday, and I wanted you to know that when she came home Kansas Day she told us she had had one of the happiest days of her life." It was her first introduction to an audience. That and all the praise she had heard, honoring our pioneer mothers, made her feel her life had been worth while. Mrs. Ingalls in her greetings told of her life in Washington.

TODAY.

Presiding, Mrs. W. D. Atkinson. The presiding officer of each and every state organization of women in Kansas had been invited to have a part on the program. Mrs. Atkinson told of the worthwhile work the women of Kansas were doing today through their organizations. It was a large pageant that followed the same course as that of the pioneer women and they were introduced naming also their state organization.

TOMORROW.

Presiding, Mrs. Frank Strong. All who held degrees from our Kansas universities and colleges were asked to come and take part in the program and they came in their caps and gowns and made a beautiful picture. Mrs. Strong's address was full of hopefulness for the future.

The three pageants with the short address given by the three women who presided, not only left with us three impressive pictures but an assurance that the homes and the educational institutions of our beloved Kansas would endure.

Mrs. Harriett J. Kitchell, a native Kansan, read an original poem and then the celebration of the 54th birthday of Kansas, and an evening reception given by Governor and Mrs. Capper, passed into History.

WOMEN OF KANSAS ELECT MRS. WARE HEAD KANSAS CLUB

One Thousand Women Gather
at Annual Meeting to Celebrate Fifty-Fourth Birthday of the State.

PRESENT FLAG FOR FREEDOM

Notable Speeches by Leading Women of State Tell of Past, Present and Future of Kansas.

One thousand Kansas women attended the Woman's Kansas Day program at the First Presbyterian church yesterday. It was an all day session.
More than 500 members sat down to the turkey dinner served at noon.
When they returned from the church dining room the main assembly hall was apparently crowded with members who had come for the afternoon exercises. There was a general rush for seats.

The morning was practically devoted to the election of officers. Mrs. Eugene Ware of Kansas City was chosen president for the next year. Other nominees included Mrs. Margaret Hill McCartier who withdrew, Mrs. W. D.
Atkinson of Parsons and Mrs. Noble Prentiss of Topeka. Mrs. W. A. Johnston presided over a Kansas Day never surpassed in history. She is responsible for the typical Kansas program.

OTHER OFFICERS.

The other officers elected for the new year were: Mrs. W. D. Atkinson of Parsons, vice-president; Mrs. W. E.
Atchison of Topeka, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Charles W. Smith, formerly of Stockton, treasurer; Mrs. A.
C. Stuch of Independence, auditor, and Mrs. Noble Prentiss of Topeka, historian. The office of recording secretary is appointive. Owing to illness, Mrs. Ware was unable to be in To-dent of the Woman's Kansas

peka yesterday so will choose her secretary at a later date. The district vice-presidents are: First district, Mrs.
J. K. Coddling of Leavenworth; Second district, Mrs. Eustice Brown of Lawrence; Third district, Mrs. Charles Beatty of Chanute; Fourth district,
Mrs. J. T. Pringle of Burlingame; Fifth district, Mrs. Catherine Hoffman of Enterprise; Sixth district, Mrs. C.
L. Danner of Wilson; Seventh district,
Mrs. George W. Winans of Hutchinson; Eighth district, Mrs. R. P. Murdock of Wichita.

A BEAUTIFUL GROUPING.

A beautiful feature was the grouping of characters about the speakers representing Kansas, Her Past, Present and Future. While Mrs. John James Ingalls of Atchison spoke on "Kansas, Her Past," she was surrounded by eighteen territorial women who have helped to make Kansas what she is today. These women have seen the bitter days of hardship and now as their years advance they behold the Kansas rainbow of the future.

Mrs. W. D. Atkinson, the newly elected president, spoke on "Kansas, Today." Around her sat twenty members, past presidents of women's organizations, including seven past presidents of the Woman's Kansas Day club.

The last tableau of the college woman graduates in their caps and gowns with Mrs. Frank Strong, the wife of Chancellor Strong of the University of Kansas, in their midst was the most impressive picture. These young girls will be the Kansas women of tomorrow. While Mrs. Bullard talked all the pioneer women present were asked to sit around her. Mrs. Mary Vance Humphrey gave an interesting account of the supreme court and its workings.

THE CALL OF KANSAS.

Appropriate for the opening of the day was "The Call of Kansas," read by the author, Miss Esther Clark of Lawrence.

Following the presentation of the D.
A. R. flag by Mrs. Effie Hiatt Van Tuyt of Leavenworth to Governor Capper for Independence hall in Philadelphia, the salute to the flag was given by the members of the W. R. C.
Mrs. J. K. Hudson, a pioneer of Kansas, presented the picture of the late Mrs. Samuel A. Kingman, wife of Justice Kingman of the supreme court of Kansas to the state historical society.
Miss Clara Francis, librarian of the society, accepted it.

WIVES OF GOVERNORS.

During the administration of former Governor George H. Hodges, Mrs.
Hodges started the collection of pictures of past governors' wives. At the conclusion of the business meeting yesterday, Mrs. Johnston suggested that the W. K. D. club continue the project.
Mrs. Hodges and Mrs. H. O. Garvey, with the privilege of choosing a third person, will form a committee to look after the work. A club motto was adopted, "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men." It followed a resolution offered by Mrs. McCartier to aid Governor Capper in his efforts toward creating a sentiment in Kansas for international peace.

Mrs. Johnston asked Mrs. W. Y. Morgan of Hutchinson to preside during her address of welcome, which closed
the morning's session.

IN PROSE.

Mrs. Eugene Ware read a paper on "Kansas in Story and Song." She gave an interesting account of the writers of Kansas, with brief quotations from some of them. Among the writers she mentioned were: D. W.
Wilder, whose annals of Kansas are the most complete of any records in the state; Henry King, Inman, Noble Prentiss, John J. Ingalls, Charles Sheldon, F. Dumont Smith, Garden-hire, Carruth, White, Wait, Mason, William Connelley, F. D. Coburn, Eugene Ware, Esther Clark, Mrs. Elerton, Mrs. Kate Applington, Mrs. Mc-Cartier, Mrs. J. K. Hudson, Mrs. J. F.
Jarrell, Miss Effie Graham.

Jeannette Huntington, the youngest daughter of George and Abigail Huntington was born in Shaftsbury, Vermont, June 19th, 1849.

At the age of twelve, she lost her mother so was sent at the age of fifteen to Vassar College--then an academy and college, and graduated in the first regular class--1870. In this same year, she came to Kansas to the home of her uncle, Calvin Huntington and accepted a position as teacher in the public schools of Ft. Scott.

In 1872, she was married to Eugene F. Ware, a young attorney of Ft. Scott. To this happy union, four children were born.

They moved to Topeka in 1893 and to Kansas City, Kansas in 1907 where Mrs. Ware died December 6th, 1915.

While in Ft. Scott, she was a member of the old Social Science Club. In Topeka, she was an officer in the Atlantean, Sorosis and Forestry Clubs. She was Historian of the Kansas Day Club in 1914 Vice-President in 1915 and President in 1916.

After planning as her program a pageant of Indian Tribes, death took her to the Great Beyond a few weeks before Kansas Day. Her co-workers carried out the program most beautifully.
